Expressions of Opinion as to Their Grievance

The Santa Fe Strike

TOPEKA March 16—The strike on the Santa Fe road is on in earnest This morning not a wheel is moving Of the 1 000 men employed on the road not one has reported for work and not a wheel has been moved in the yards Trainmen have been ordered to make up their trains and officials refuse to receive freight of any kind The union depot presents a peculiar if not Garden of Eden appearance as hundreds of emigrants who have been lying in the city with tickets to various points on the line of the Santa Fe are unable to get away An official of the road said he would not be surprised if the strike was declared off tomorrow morning but he did not look for any such action himself Chairman Clark of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said yesterday

"Our grievance is not against the Santa Fe company but against the Atchison system which has been discriminating against Topeka men for a long time We have been trying to settle the matter for a month and have been unable to do so Our grievance can be settled here by the Atchison people at Topeka by first class men who have been in the employ of the company for years and who have been discharged to make room for new men who have been brought here from other roads to do our work We ask that

Pierpont of Waterbury, Connecticut, were omitted. On Wednesday evening a progressive donkey party was given at the Cliff house, which was a great success and productive of much amusement.

The Coulterville Illinois Republican in its last issue contained the following: "Hon. B. Roots, the pioneer school teacher of Perry county, will please accept our thanks for copies of the Colorado Springs Gazette, containing an extensive and complete review of that city. Also three large supplement sheets, with illustrations of many of the largest and best residences, churches, business houses, etc. It is the most attractive paper of its kind that has come to our notice."

Kate Castleton and her company of comedians in "Crazy Patch" will be the attraction at the opera house next Tuesday evening. The St. Paul Globe says: "Of all the mirth provoking pieces that has ever been produced here, Kate Castleton's 'Crazy Patch' takes the lead. It bubbles all over with fun. There is more genuine comedy in it than in 'Rag Baby,' 'Tin Soldier' and other kindred plays. Miss Castleton is more chic than ever. She is an edition of Lillian Russell and Lotta combined—pretty as a peach in ripening and acute and coy as an imp. It has been three years since Kate Castleton was in St. Paul. She grows younger and prettier as the years steal on, and is now one of the most versatile, as she is the most finished comedienne on the stage. There is an old-time flavor of comedy about 'Crazy Patch'—of the good old days when comedy was comedy."

THE GRANGER LAND AND TOWN COMPANY

Now Offers For Sale the Entire

Town Site of Granger,

IN EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO.

GRANGER is situated on the line of the Denver, Texas & Gulf Railroad, about eighteen miles northeast of Colorado Springs, in the center of the best Agricultural District in Colorado. The rainfall is sufficient to perfect good crops, and irrigation is entirely unnecessary. All the available Land within a radius of twenty-five miles has been taken up by bona fide settlers, and improvements are rapidly being made on all the occupied land.

Granger has one of the best Town Sites in the State. It commands an extended view in every direction. The site is almost perfectly level, with a slight fall to the southeast. Water is obtainable within 10 feet of the surface on the entire Town Site. The streets are all 80 feet in width, and the lots are all 50x150, excepting the business lots, which are 25x150 feet. The town lies on both sides of the railroad. The Surveyed Line of THE CHICAGO AND ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD Runs Parallel with that of the DENVER, TEXAS & GULF RAILROAD through the Center of the Town, and forms a Junction with the latter at this point. Granger is destined to become an important town by reason of its location. It is an Objective Point on the lines of all the Railroads now heading for the Rocky Mountains, and also from the fact that it is located in a Rich and Fertile Region, where good water is reached at a shallow depth. At present it is an important Shipping point on the D., T. & G. R. R. for a large section of country. In the matter of freight receipts Granger ranks third on the line of the road.

The lots will be sold on the popular Allotment Plan, as follows:

Price $50 Each, $25 Cash and $25 in Six Months at 10 Per Cent. Interest.

The drawing for location, due notice of which will be given, will occur not later than May 1st next, and will be conducted by a competent committee selected by the certificate holders. The company will include in the drawing every alternate lot in the entire town site as platted, beginning with lot 1 in each block, reserving all fractional lots, as well as lots numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 18 and 19 in block 1; number 13 in block 2; numbers 1, 21 and 22 in block 11; numbers 17, 18 and 22 in block 12; numbers 15 and 16 in block 21; number 18 in block 22; number 17 in block 31; numbers 1, 2 and 3 in block 47; numbers 15 and 16 in block 21.

All these lots have been sold and deeded. Wherever lot number 1 in each block is fractional, then commence with the number of the first whole lot of said blocks, and alternate. The object in reserving thus each alternate lot throughout the entire plat, and selling the other at the low price of $50, when there is not a lot in the entire site but what is well worth $100 (some of the reserved lots above mentioned have been sold at this figure), is to enhance the value of property reserved by inducing the purchasers to build and improve over the entire plat. After the drawing prices will be advanced on lots reserved. Lots are now for sale at the following places:

STOLEN SHINGLES

A Sensation in the Fine Timber Dealer Arrested For Petty Larceny

Yesterday afternoon Mr E J Nichols of the Fine Timber Dealer was arrested on a charge of petty larceny and forthwith locked up in the North Tejon street station house. The warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace Shideler based on complaint of Mr W P Beach & Co. The warrant was served by Officer Clarke and Mr Nichols was released on bail in the sum of $50. He will appear before Justice Shideler and a hearing was set for Monday next. Bail was demanded of Mr Nichols in the sum of $300 but being unable to secure it he was committed to the county jail. The police are of the opinion that Nichols stole all the material for a large stable which he is building on the rear of which is now ready for the roof. As the articles which he is charged with stealing were taken at different times he can only be tried for petty larceny.

LAND SENT

The Body of the Missing Manitou Park Child Found Yesterday Morning

The search for the body of Percy Ingram the Manitou Park gentleman who disappeared from his home on Wednesday morning was finally closed out what is known as East Mesa creek at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. From a point where the body was found in the creek it is supposed carrying with it a couple of shingles to his house. A search warrant was issued by the justice yesterday afternoon and three pieces of shingles were found in the possession of Nichols. He was at once arrested and released on bail. It is believed that he had bought the lumber of Mr Dunn and was carrying it home when he was overtaken by the storm. The shingles were found in the road about a mile from the house of Mr Dunn. When the body was found it was lying in the creek with its head pointing down stream. The theory is that the child was carrying the shingles on its shoulder and that it fell into the creek and was carried down by the current. The body was found about a mile from the point where the shingles were found. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr Dunn this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the Manitou cemetery.

Messrs Meyer Guggenheim and Daniel Guggenheim of the Denver Smelting and Refining company are in the city being there with Mr R Cline vice president of the company. In the morning they will leave to Leadville and in the afternoon they will return to the city. Mr Robinson arrives early this morning and will remain in the city all day. Mr Daniel Guggenheim stated that the question of the settlement of the Ben Butler would be definitely settled within a few days. Mr Hotchkiss did not care to make any definite promise but the board of trade until all the details are worked out with the building of the smelter had been settled.

Chief Engineer Boggs of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad was in the city yesterday together with corps of engineers connected with the road. Their visit was for the purpose of making surveys and estimates for the proposed crossing over the railroad tracks on Huerfano street. They did not complete their work until late yesterday afternoon. It is thought that a viaduct with stone abutments could be easily built over the track. It would be about 900 feet long, twenty feet high and fifty feet wide. It is estimated that such a structure would cost between $18,000 and $20,000.

Admission of Utah

WASHINGTON March 16—A bill introduced by Senator Butler to day for the admission of Utah as a state provides that the qualifications necessary to take part on the election of delegates of the convention directed to be held by the bill shall be the same as are now required in elections of members of the territorial legislature. The Utah commission is granted power to apportion the state into one hundred election districts, and on the day of the regular annual election in August 1888 delegates shall be chosen. The constitutional convention is to meet at Salt Lake City on the second Tuesday of December 1888. If after organization the delegates shall adopt the constitution of the United States they shall have the right to frame such constitution which shall contain among other things an irrevocable ordinance, providing that perfect toleration of religious sentiments shall be secured, and that no inhabitant of the state shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his mode of religious worship. If the constitution framed by this convention shall be ratified by the people of the territory the president is required to issue a proclamation admitting the state into the union.

Stock Markets

NEW YORK March 16—Money on call easy at 2 to 3 closed 2 to 2½ prime mercantile paper 5 to 5½. The stock market was weak to day, and under heavy selling developed more than usual activity and in some cases material declines were established. The Missouri Pacific was first attacked on a rumor that the road would not pay a dividend this quarter. The Union Pacific was next attacked on a report that the strike had extended to that road. There was a better feeling just before the close and small gains were made but they had no effect on the general list and the market closed weak at about the lowest prices of the day.

The Reservoir Question

DENVER March 16—The second day of the state irrigation convention was occupied in discussing resolutions the following of which were the most important adopted:

Resolved That we urge upon congress the immediate necessity of making liberal appropriations to be expended in the construction of reservoirs for storing water in the state for irrigation purposes.

Resolved That an interstate convention of all the states west of the Missouri river should be called to consider the reservoir and ditch questions and that the governor of Colorado be requested to unite with the president and secretary of this convention in issuing a call for such a convention to be held in Denver Colorado and to be named.

The convention then appointed a committee consisting of Gov Adams Attorney General Marsh and others to draft a memorial to be presented to congress. The convention adjourned sine die.

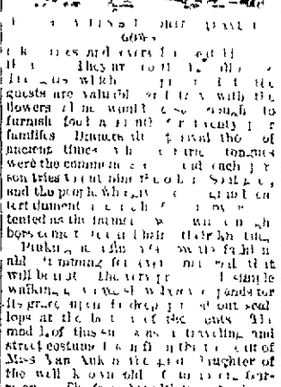
SPRING, GENTLE SPRING.

THOUGH PINCHED AND COLD, IT HAS APPEARED IN NEW YORK

A Little Talk About Hats and Styles Suits for Summer and Dress Reflection Of What Is Worn by Fine Women and Their Imitators



SPRING SUITS FOR ECONOMICAL LADIES

Thousands of women do just so. They visit every store in the city to find just what will please their fancy or that which is cheapest, and then they bate, snub and often elbow and almost openly insult other buyers.

It is, and always has been, a wonder to me how women can pay such extravagant prices for things which their own common sense, that is, if they had any would tell them were not worth one-tenth what is asked. No wonder that men go crazy and commit suicide, or retreat to Canada, when their wives pay $25 for a bonnet, as I saw a woman do yesterday.

It was a bonnet made of blue velvet, with tiny silver stars embroidered all over it, and a brim at least twelve inches out over the face. The trimming consisted of shaded plumes, a silver arrow and a rosette of point lace. Seventy five dollars! How many a woman could have an entire costume and a pretty one too, for far less than that and feel proud of it.

This week I present the newest and prettiest styles for making up the new spring dress goods, the models being chosen for their easy adaptability to any material, from calico to silks and velvets. The bustle, it will be seen has diminished one half. We must be thankful for small favors, you know.

The sateen costume is really very pretty. The model is of maroon sateen trimmed with imitation Irish point lace, laid on flat, with a stimulated vest of plum colored velvet. At the back the drapery is gathered high and ample, and a wide sash of the same is looped and falls in two ends. This suit can be worn as a dress house gown, or can be worn with equal propriety in the street and a handy young lady, with the needle at fitting natures to be purchased now will make it last easily.

The next two costumes are made in the highest style. The [illegible] of dark blue Sebastopol cloth which is pleated all the cross ways closely, but is rather softer and finer. It drapes very gracefully. It is trimmed with white lace [illegible] laid on both over the blue silk and by a simulated vest cuffs and collar of dark blue velvet. The whole costs sixty cents a yard and it makes up into an economical and stylish costume of eight yards. The trimming will cost $5 [illegible] and all of it is not only a very pretty but inexpensive gown providing the wearer makes it herself. The right dress of gray henrietta with a combination of gray henrietta with scarlet velvet, raised flowers. Velvet collar bands on the sleeves and jaunty little sapphire corsage, as well as long flowing scarlet velvet ribbon trim it in fine taste. The flounces are pinked on the bottom.

The other is a dress cut and exactly after one just finished for the cunning daughter of the Italian Mr Morosini now Mrs Victoria Schilling. She is a tall stylish girl and always dresses with good taste. This costume is of pale green faille and dark green velvet striped silk of three shades of green. The silk is used for the front of the skirt and vest. This dress is particularly suitable for small to make up with the pretty new spring [illegible] which come in stripes and plain goods to match.

The action of the board of trade in taking up the subject of an increased water supply is timely and proper It is a subject which is intimately associated with the city s growth and demands prompt consideration

An enthusiastic democrat has declared that if Colonel William R Morrison is nominated for the vice presidency Illinois would go democratic. It is difficult to perceive how he arrives at this conclusion for Mr Morrison could not carry his own congressional district at the last election

The Atlanta Constitution sensibly remarks upon the recent articles which have appeared in newspapers and magazines regarding the status of the negro that 'the truth of the matter is that the future of the negro is in the hands of the negro himself He has before him the future of a citizen and he can make the best or the worst of it as the case may be

The imposing funeral obsequies of the late Emperor William which occurred yesterday, are a fitting evidence of the esteem in which he was held by the German people. Of him it can truly be said that he was an ideal ruler, as well as an upright man The record of his noble achievements is one to which all Germans can point with feelings of pride

It is a very singular fact that the engineers on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road should become so suddenly ill, while on the Burlington strikers in progress Chief Arthur of the brotherhood seems unable to understand the cause of this 'sudden illness' and thinks that they 'became sick' too soon Fears are entertained that the epidemic among the engineers on the Atchison road may become contagious

The committee which has been investigating the operation of the 'sugar trust' has discovered that the price of sugar has greatly advanced since the trust was formed There is a wide spread belief that legislation should be employed to abolish and crush the various "pools" and 'trusts' The sugar trust should be the first to go, and there is no better method of crushing it than to abolish the duty on refined sugar

The democrats of Leadville evidently have no expectations of electing their candidate for mayor in the approaching election They have nominated Dr J C Mefre, who was nominated by President Cleveland for a consulate in Japan during the early part of his administration. He was recommended for the position by the Patterson wing of the party in this state Upon investigation it was learned that his personal habits were such as to disqualify him for the office and his appointment was revoked It is stated that the president was completely disgusted with the Colorado democratic politicians who recommended Dr Mefre But the Leadville democracy have no conscientious scruples regarding character and this nomination to use a strong mixed phrase is considered the best that could have been made

The number of the great military leaders of the Franco German war is rapidly diminishing The St Louis Globe Democrat calls attention to this fact as follows

Time is decimating the ranks of the great chieftains in the Franco German struggle of 1870 71 Chanzy the most conspicuous of the commanders of the armies of the republic is dead as is also Uhrich the gallant defender of Strasbourg Bazaine is disgraced and in exile while MacMahon aged and infirm is waiting patiently for the grim messenger whose coming cannot long be delayed Dead, too, are the Red Prince Frederick Charles the greatest of the field commanders of the German army and Manteuffel the grimmest and most formidable of its fighting generals while the death angel is even now hovering around Frederick I who as the Prussian crown prince was one of the most intrepid and successful of the military chieftains of the fatherland Fifteen years ago Napoleon III breathed his last in exile in Chiselhurst while today the bells in Berlin are tolling a requiem for William I his illustrious antagonist Victor and vanquished alike are going down before the grim conqueror

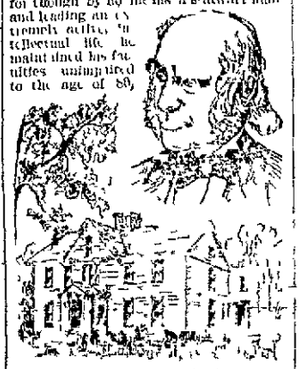
THE CONCORD PHILOSOPHER

A. Bronson Alcott, Whose Death Was Recently Announced



ALCOTT AND HIS HOME

Amos Bronson Alcott whose death was recently announced in London succeeded in presenting a very powerful personal argument in favor of his system of living for though by no means a stalwart man and leading an extremely active intellectual life he maintained his faculties unimpaired to the age of 80, and died aged 88 The founder of reputation is better acquainted with the family name through the writings of his talented daughter, Miss Louisa M Alcott but to the active thinkers of 1836-50 the announcement of the old philosopher's death will bring recollections and sighs not unmixed with smiles The smiles will be in tender memory of the days of 'Brook Farm' and other communistic experiments which Bronson Alcott was a noted and very jaded reformer in almost every line of living and equally of the method of teaching.

Very few men have been the subject of so much good humored jauchter and gentle criticism, every one liked him many devotedly loved him a very few believed in him, and the mass of mankind called him a 'crank' And no wonder, for he founded his system of teaching on two axioms that the soul came into the world from a realm of pure spirit, and that the body was described by "strong meats," hence, he maintained, children in whom the pure spirits had but lately been incarnated were to be dealt with as naturally pure, and corruption of infantile purity was to be avoided by proper diet, which should consist almost entirely of milk, fruit and unstimulating vegetables It is scarcely necessary to say that the average American parent, knowing the real nature of children by painful experience, laughed the philosopher to scorn Nevertheless he taught school in Boston for six years on his theory, and afterward established this "infantile quest" at Concord, where some traces of that school system still remain He governed his school on the very unorthodox theory that man is by nature prone to do right, and that the aspirations of children, before their perversion, are valuable, so he kept a record of the childish replies to his most puzzling questions, and a very extraordinary record it was

His own education was an extraordinary patchwork. Born at Wolcott, Conn, Nov 29, 1799, he commenced protesting against the existing condition of things as soon as he was able to write, and kept it up for sixty five years, till a paralytic stroke in 1902 deprived him of power to write further As an early age he made a long tour of the south as a peddler reading every book he could get hold of and debating all disputed themes with his customers and entertainers After his experience as a teacher in Boston he settled in Concord in 1836, and labored six years to found a school of vegetarians In 1842 he went to England and returning thence with two friends established a place near Harvard called 'Fruit lands,' which was to be a sort of Eden of fruit diet and primeval simplicity Of course the "old serpent" got in and 'Eden' was abandoned. He next worked in connection with Emerson as a transcendentalist, and published the "Orphic Sayings" In 1868 he published 'Tablets' in 1872, "Concord Days,' and in 1882 'Table Talk" all full of the same unrefined notions about pure souls and possible perfection In 1830 he married Miss May of Boston, by whom he had one daughter the famous author of 'Little Women" and other stories for children It is one of the pleasing contrasts we find in domestic life that the wife was a plain, common sense Yankee girl and the daughter's writings are intensely practical, while the old gentleman remained an intuition dist or transcendentalist dreamer to the last.
